

Troy H. Williams, CFA
Investment Analyst

ROLE AT MILLER CAPITAL

Troy is an Investment Analyst at Miller Capital, an independent Registered Investment Advisor. He contributes to investment research, portfolio strategy development and implementation, client services, and business operations. His work supports the delivery of customized client solutions.

BACKGROUND

Before joining Miller Capital, Troy spent over four years at Stout in its Valuation Advisory practice. While at Stout, he advised both publicly traded and privately owned companies on business enterprise and equity valuations, as well as the valuation of various intangible assets (i.e., trademark/trade names, developed technology, etc.) utilizing forms of income, market, and cost approaches. He has extensive expertise across a broad range of industries including manufacturing, distribution, retail, transportation, restaurants, financial services, technology, and media and entertainment. Troy holds dual bachelor's degrees in Finance and Accounting, with a minor in Economics, from Wayne State University.
